ANSWER MADE TO OGDEN'S PETITION TO COMMISSION

Oregon Short Line Denies That It Has Discriminated Against This City—Exaggerates the Importance of Salt Lake and Minimizes Ogdén's Position in Commercial World.

Judge H. H. Henderson, as counsel for the Weber Club and those who are protesting to the Interstate Commerce commission in an effort to have the discriminatory rates granted Salt Lake and refused Ogdén, set aside, has received from the commission the answer of the Oregon Short Line to the petition, in which the railroad maintains that there is no discrimination, that the rates are granted at conference time for the benefit of the members of the Latter-Day Saints and not for fair purpose or to lessen the importance of Ogdén as a commercial center.

One noticeable reference is that Salt Lake has a population of 100,000 and Ogdén 20,000. This is to magnify the importance of Salt Lake by comparison. Next year is census year, when the absurd claim that Salt Lake has 100,000 population will be exploded while Ogdén will be shown to have between 25,000 and 30,000.

The answer of the Oregon Short Line in full is as follows: The above named defendants, for their joint answer to the petition of the complainants in the above entitled cause, state that as to the matters and things set forth in the first paragraph of said petition, these defendants have not sufficient knowledge or information to enable them to answer, and upon that ground they deny the allegations contained in said paragraph one of said petition.

For answer to the second, third, fourth and fifth paragraphs of said petition, the defendants admit the matters and things set forth in said paragraphs of said petition.

Answering the sixth paragraph of said petition, these defendants admit that they have in the past granted a round trip for a round trip to passengers from the various points stated to enable persons to attend the Semi-Annual Conference of the Latter-Day Saints, but deny that such rate is given from said points for attendance at the conference, and that the other attractions being held in Salt Lake City; deny that defendants give out and state that said rates will be maintained in like manner for said future, and deny that the rates are good for two weeks or more; deny that Ogdén City is the natural center for all the territory mentioned in the exhibits attached to said petition, or especially Western Wyoming, Eastern Nevada, Southern Idaho or Northern Utah.

Answering the seventh paragraph of said petition, these defendants aver that they have no knowledge or information sufficient to enable them to answer the same, and, upon that ground, they deny each and every of the allegations therein contained and made.

For answer to the eighth paragraph of said petition, these defendants, upon their information and belief, deny that during the past year people from Western Wyoming, Eastern Nevada or Southern Idaho have attended said fair, or have competed for the prizes offered, and, on like ground, deny that said people have come to Ogdén for the further purpose of trading with the commercial houses of Ogdén City. These defendants admit that during the past year the defendants have granted to persons desiring to attend said fair, and for other purposes, a rate of one and one-third fares for a round trip, but denies that if the said defendants had granted a one-fare for a round trip to said fair that many more people would have come to Ogdén City for the purpose of attending said fair or for other purposes.

These defendants admit the matters and things set forth in the ninth paragraph of said petition. For answer to the tenth paragraph of said petition, these defendants, upon their information and belief, deny that of the passengers going to Salt Lake City by the railroad, the rate of one fare for the round trip, they are divided as set forth in said paragraph; but, on the contrary, these defendants, upon their information and belief, allege that of the persons attending Salt Lake City on the occasions mentioned, not less than 75 per cent thereof so attend for religious purposes, to-wit: the Semi-Annual Conference of the Latter-Day Saints, and that not exceeding 25 per cent thereof attend for the purpose of the whole, to take advantage of the rate at such time put in for the purposes of relaxation and commercial purposes; and these defendants deny that if granted a rate of one fare for a round trip from the territory mentioned in said petition to persons desiring to come to Ogdén City during the time of the annual Inter-mountain Four-State Fair many more people would come to Ogdén at said fair for the purpose of attending said fair, or for other purposes. They say by reason of alleged discrimination in favor of Salt Lake City the people living in the territory aforesaid, take advantage of the mere favorable rates granted to Salt Lake City, or patronize the fair or other attractions or the commercial houses in Salt Lake City, or under similar or equal rates, the people, merchants, or Fair Association of Ogdén City would get a greater division of the patronage or attendance of the people living in the territory aforesaid. And these defendants deny that the people, merchants or Fair Association of Ogdén do not get a fair division of the patronage and attendance of the people living in the said territory.

These defendants deny that they have made it a regular custom for year twenty years, or for any period to grant a rate of one fare for a round trip to persons who have desired to attend the Fair at Salt Lake City, and deny that they hold out or say that they will grant such rate in the future, and deny that they will grant any such rate in the future for attendance at the Utah State Fair. They say that by reason of the refusal by these defendants to grant such rate to Ogdén City during the month of September, when the Inter-mountain Four-State Fair is being held, that a great many, or any, of the people living in the territory aforesaid do not come to Ogdén City, or wait until the more favorable rates are granted by the defendants to go to Salt Lake City to do their trading. These defendants admit that they will grant a rule make their purchases once or twice a year, and that Salt Lake City and Ogdén City are the largest and most easily accessible places for the people in said territory to do their trading. These defendants deny that by reason of the premises aforesaid or any of them, as alleged in said complaint, in refusing to grant a rate of one fare for a round trip to persons living in the territory aforesaid to come to Ogdén City at the time alleged, are discriminatory or illegal as to the merchants, professional men or citizens of Ogdén, or to the Inter-mountain Four-State Fair Association, or to any other persons, or at all.

Further answering the said complaint, these defendants allege that the early settlers and pioneers of the region now constituting the State of Utah were almost exclusively members of the Mormon or Latter-Day Saints church; that they originally came into this region in a considerable body and as an organized church, and established their headquarters at Salt Lake City and gradually spread from that as a center to the surrounding country, establishing many towns and communities within and without the present boundaries of the State of Utah; that said settlements of the Latter-Day Saints now extend not only throughout the state of Utah, but over a large part of Idaho, Wyoming, Nevada, Colorado, Arizona, Republic of Mexico, Oregon, Montana and British America, and that the said Latter-Day Saints people wherever located constitute a single body and church organization, the Salt Lake City said established as the capital city of said church at the time of the original settlement of said Mormon people in the inter-mountain region, and it has continued to be their capital city at which the said church has been located, and still exist, the offices and headquarters of the President and principal officers and governing bodies of said church. That said Salt Lake City was so established as the capital city of said church, and has since that time been the capital of the territory of Utah, or of the State of Utah. That, by reason of the settlement of said region by the members of said church, they have within the territory now constituting the State of Utah, a large majority of people, and have had a controlling influence in building up the various cities and towns within said region.

That, by reason of the establishment of said church as its capital city in Salt Lake City, it has resulted in developing in that city a large population and a vast amount of business; that the said city now contains, as these defendants are informed and believe, and allege the fact to be, a population of about 100,000 people; that the next city in size to Salt Lake City in said state is Ogdén, with a population, as these defendants are informed and believe, of not exceeding 25,000 people. That, as a result of the growth and development of Salt Lake City, it constitutes not only the religious center and capital of the Mormon church, but is the capital of the state and the center of the mining, commercial, banking and other industries of the state and surrounding country. That ever since the settlement of said city the said Mormon church, as a part of its policy, and the teaching of its faith, has held in April and October of each year, at said Salt Lake City, its general Semi-Annual conferences of the entire church, and which a large proportion of its members wherever they may be located, regularly attend. That the said policy of holding said conferences in said city was established by the said church wholly independent of, and free from any control or influence of either of these defendants, and before either of them was organized or had an existence. That these regularly attend said conferences many thousands of people coming from all the localities aforesaid in which the members of said church are located, so that the said gatherings of said Mormon church, at said Semi-Annual conferences, are wholly distinct and exceptional from any other gatherings or assemblies within the said state of Utah, and produce a largely increased travel over the lines of railroad of these defendants over and in excess of any other gatherings whatever within the said state of Utah. That the facts aforesaid constitute a continually dissimilar circumstances and conditions from those existing at said Ogdén City on the occasions referred to in said petition, and justify and make reasonable and lawful the rates established and now in effect in the transportation of visitors to said conferences. These defendants further allege that rates to the State Fair held at Salt Lake City annually are not given or extended for any sum or rate less than that which is offered and extended to the said fair annually held at Ogdén City. These defendants further allege that the State Fair Association, through its officers, has been instrumental in obtaining an annual fair at Salt Lake City in the early part of October and at the same time of the assembling of the October Semi-Annual conference of the Latter-Day Saints church, and thus secure for persons attending said fair the same rates as are granted to all persons during the period that the reduced rate is in existence on account of said conference. That the action of said State Fair Association, in obtaining said annual fair at Salt Lake City, and beyond the control, and has never been influenced in any manner whatsoever, by these defendants, or either of them, and that the advantage of the rate secured to the persons attending the State Fair are wholly incidental to the period fixed and the assembling of the members of the said church at their said Semi-Annual conferences in October of each year.

These defendants further allege that the fact that reduced rates are introduced for a limited period to and from Salt Lake City on account of the said semi-annual conferences of the said church, and not introduced or introduced special, low, temporary rates for gathering such as the Four-State Fair, or other assemblies at other points, and that the refusal of these defendants, or either of them, to grant similar rates, or any reduced fare whatever, to such other assemblies is not a violation of any of the provisions of the Interstate Commerce, or any other law.

WHEREFORE, these defendants pray that the said petition be dismissed, and that the defendants have such other and further relief in the premises as may be just, acceptable, and in harmony with the law.

Tally-Ho.

Strange as it may seem, the word "tally-ho" in a manner connects the hunting field with the coach. Tallis hors, pronounced tally-ho—Norman French for "out of the thicket"—was the proper cry when the fox broke cover. The huntman and the master of the fox hounds answered the cry with long blasts of the horn.

Then, when public coaches began to run, their horns blew the tally-ho blasts; further as luxury progressed, finer coaches often took to the meet and the throwing off, fine people who did not intend to follow the hounds, but to see them spectacularly.

Between use and luxury, the coach with seats on top crystallized as the tally-ho. The tally-ho it is likely to remain unless all the world should go automobile mad.

SHOULD BE A BALLOON INSPECTOR.

Dayton, O., Sept. 1.—Dayton may have an inspector of balloons. Wilbur Wright has voiced such a suggestion and the International Aeroplane club has taken the matter up. There is no law under which the inspector can now work, but the club has outlined a plan. It is for the gas company not to inflate any craft which is declared dangerous by the club inspector. There are so many gas balloons now in Dayton and so many more on the way that it was deemed wise to take precautions.

TRAVELING MUSEUM HERE

ONE OF THE GREAT ATTRACTIONS AT THE FAIR.

Contains the Most Celebrated Tattooed People in the World—Also the Baby Mermaid.

Wagner's traveling museum will be among the many attractive features of the fair. It is one of the most famous museums on the road. It features Mrs. Gus Wagner, the most celebrated tattooed people in the world, also Baby Mermaid, for which $1,000 is offered for its equal. The museum contains the human-headed octopus and the fifty other interesting curiosities from every quarter of the world. It is the only show of its kind and it is a treat for ladies and gentlemen and little children.

The Wagner people have traveled over the continent several times and have gathered curiosities from every foreign land, have exhibited in all the large cities of the United States and Canada and are now on their first tour across the United States, never having stopped in Salt Lake or Ogdén. The Wagners have traveled seven years on the continent and have sailed in every sea and are said to have the greatest curiosity museum traveling in the world.

This paper is promised a picture showing Mrs. Wagner in her tattooed costume, which will appear in a day or so.

A gentleman who has just returned from Spokane Falls, advises the Standard reporter that the Wagner's museum is well worth several times the price charged in Spokane. The admission is only 10 cents.

ROOSEVELT SKINS IN CONDITION.

Washington, Sept. 1.—The scientists of the Smithsonian Institution are now satisfying their overflowing curiosity as to what the first consignments of boxes, containing trophies of Colonel Roosevelt's African hunt, have within their sides. Upon opening the cases containing the skins they were found to be in good shape. The work of stuffing the skins will not be undertaken until the skins have been in the museum for two years before the work is completed. A beautiful collection of birds, said to be more valuable than the larger animals, is also in the collection.

RIO GRANDE AGAIN OPEN FOR TRAFFIC

Salt Lake, Sept. 1.—Several east-bound and westbound passenger trains on the Rio Grande railroad with hundreds of passengers were delayed today near Mounds station, east of Helper, as the result of a cloudburst. The track was washed out in places and covered for many hundred yards with gravel. It was announced by officials tonight that the break had been repaired and the three westbound trains would reach Salt Lake by four o'clock Thursday morning.

This Versifying Age.

The body of tolerably acceptable contemporary verse is enormous. It shows a wide range of thought, and a commendable technique. In one department, at least, it has manifested a notable progress during the last 500 years; namely, in the poetic drama. Hundreds of men and women are now writing plays in verse. They are giving a new vitality, new imaginative possibilities to the American stage. Our lyric poets are beyond counting. Mr. Stedman gathered the work of 600 of them into his anthology many years ago. But this number does not represent a tithe of the persons who habitually or intermittently produce verse.

Yet how rarely, in the mass of lyric verse, does one catch the national note! More sonnets are written about John Keats than about the United States of America.—Bliss Perry, in Atlantic.

Apple Pucker.

Roll out your pie crust a little thicker than for a pie, line a granite or crockery basin with the crust, letting it fall over the sides of the basin to touch the table. Fill basin with sliced apples, sugar, piece of salt, bits of butter, and cinnamon for an apple pie. I put cinnamon through the middle and again over the top of the apples. Then pull the paste up over the apples, letting it pucker or come as it will, only don't let it meet. If there is too much paste cut it out so there will be a hole in the center as large as the bottom of your lamp chimney. Bake same as a pie. Do not use a large deep basin but rather a shallow one.

Determining Physical Condition.

Children differ in development, and Dr. T. M. Rotch has pointed out that the present method of regulating child labor by age is "unscientific and unsatisfactory. One child may be as well developed and capable of endurance at 13 as another several years older. He proposes that the X-rays be used in estimating the capacity of the young and immature, as sufficient study will make it practicable to gauge physical condition by the state of development of the bones of the body, and thus give a rational basis for determining what work may be permitted.

Cashier Had It #11.

In Basin, Wyo., a few years ago, there was a plot hatched to hold up the Boston & Oregon stage company. The story leaked out and the plan fell through, but one day after it had been abandoned, the principal who had planned the hold-up stood outside with two of his friends looking wistfully through the window at the cashier. After a time he said mournfully to his boys: "It wouldn't have been no use, boys; he's got it all!"

ENGINE EXPLODES IN HEART OF CITY

Butte, Mont., Sept. 1.—With a crash heard for blocks around, the big hoisting engine of the Colorado mine in the center of the city exploded this afternoon, precipitating the steel cable, weighing many tons to the bottom of the shaft and hurling pieces of the reel for hundreds of yards in every direction.

The only person known to have been injured was A. J. Cain, a miner, who was in his bed in the Clarence hotel, a block east of the Colorado hoist, and who was struck by a piece of iron that crashed through the roof of the building. He escaped with an injured arm and shoulder. Many persons had narrow escapes.

TO INVESTIGATE KILLING.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 1.—Captain Elliott P. Coulter, former mayor of Girard, Ala., today retained legal counsel in Atlanta for the purpose of investigating what he claims was the unwarranted killing of his brother, Edward W. Coulter, company D, Seventeenth United States regiment at Fort McPherson several weeks ago. Coulter was shot and killed while running away from a squad of soldiers who had been sent to quell a disturbance in a "nearbeer" saloon near the fort. He claimed that the order was given to fire by Lieutenant L. W. Hazellhurst, in command of the squad.

JOY RIDING EXPENSIVE.

Detroit, Sept. 1.—Four young men, Oliver M. Lau, Harvey Huxton, Frank Miller and Ernest Clements, all members of well known families, were sentenced today to $100 fine and ninety days in the house of correction for "harrowing" an automobile to take two women "joy riding." The party ended in a smashup in the village of Algonac, forty miles above Detroit. The automobile, which was taken from in front of the Hotel Pontchartrain, crashed into a telegraph pole and was wrecked.
